

Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming

Our signature programme, the Practitioner is designed to equip Leaders, Change Agents and high-potential individuals with the intrapersonal and interpersonal skills they need most. Built upon decades of development internationally and tested across a decade in China, we are pleased to have our training recognised as being of the highest global quality.

You will learn...

- Change your state in an instant, so you can be at your best on demand,
- Use Precision Language to cut through the fluff that leads to uncertainty, misunderstanding and flawed thinking,
- Shift and expand perspectives, points of view and Perceptual Positions so you can become a more charismatic and persuasive communicator and insightful thinker,
- Transform your internal representations so that your most important goals become compelling, attractive and attainable, while the anxieties, stressors and issues from the past or future can take their place and not get in your way,
- Feel more present, more engaged and more connected with yourself and those around you,
- Harness Metaphors in language, thought and behaviour for yourself and others,
- Transform the past, the present and the future, so you can let go of past guilt, future anxieties and take charge of getting the life you want, and
- Juggle! Yes, you'll get the opportunity to learn to juggle. While not a compulsory activity – most people need to practice in their own time – almost everybody who wants to ends up being able to juggle.

Our Head Trainer, Daniel Smith, is the most experienced English-language NLP trainer in China. Certified as a Trainer of NLP by both Co-Founders of NLP, and holding five university degrees, Daniel has been delivering NLP trainings in China since 2008.

Format: Two intensive weekends

The interactive, experiential workshop is conducted over two weekends, typically Friday night 7-9:30pm, Saturday and Sunday 10am-6pm and Monday night 7-9:30pm of the first weekend only.

Next training in Beijing: 1 – 4 and 8 - 10 June, 2018

The Certification process involves maintaining a journal as you apply what you learn during the training to your personal context to ensure that you are both confident and competent in the patterns.

There is no pre-reading required though a comprehensive workbook is provided to support your ongoing development.

Investment: 16,800RMB

16,800RMB (net of taxes) includes the training, Certification process and the opportunity to reattend Practitioner trainings we offer for the following 12 months.
