Beijing is a wonderful city in which to work as a professional woman.

Over the last five years, the city has sprouted various groups to provide professional women with platforms to meet, share and exchange. What are these groups? What values do they represent and what are each of their unique missions? Who do these groups serve? How do they differ? How can you get involved?

The Grand Gathering will answer all of these questions.

On Wednesday September 25th, Beijing's women's groups will join together for an almighty female finale to the summer.

Co-hosted by Viva and 85 Broads, and supported by WEConnect, Women in Leadership, Spark:Her, UN Women China, and Lean In - the event aims to introduce each group to the capital's professional women from old China hands to new arrives.

Grab a girlfriend and register now as we gather for cocktails and canapés, introductions and insight and an evening of community connections.

This event is open to any professional women in Beijing. Sorry, no men this time!
